CLAS-3991 A (

PHIL 3991 A (3 CR) THE ETHICS OF KNOWLEDGE stress and well-being will be discussed from the organizational psychology perspective. Individual and organizational sources of stress will be covered under different topics of interest such as organizational justice, leadership, work-family conflict, and workplace aggression. The class also covers possible organizational interventions, which are used for increasing well-being at workplace. (Format: Lecture 3 hours) professional scientific writing and presentations). Examples will be drawn from the biological sciences, and students will have the opportunity to tailor assignments to areas of biology that interest them.

PSYC 3991

ENGL 3991 -A (3 CR) AFRICAN ANIMIST ARTS

Prereqs: Permission of the Department

This course focuses on Animist Realism in African and African Diasporic literatures and visual arts. As such, course material is multi-genre, including literary texts, film material, sculpture, and paintings. We will analyse how the concept of Animist Realism spread from Africa with the slave trade to become Magic Realism in the African Diaspora. This will be achieved through readings of select literary texts and ideas of national identity. By looking at the works of both mainstream and marginal artists, we will consider a variety of perspectives on what it really means to be Canadian. (Format: Lecture 3 hours)

FINH 4091 A (3 CR) THE POETICS OF SPACE

Prereqs: FINH 2001; FINH 2011; or permission of the Department This seminar is designed to critically examine spatial perception as it intersects with visual culture and everyday experience. (Format: Seminar 3 hours)

FREN 3991

economy and trace the political-economic development of Canada from colonialism to the contemporary period. The course also reviews some of the key writers who have debated Canada's economic position in the world, focusing particularly on nationalist, continentalist and regional approaches. We will also cover current issues, such as global trade and the manifestation of

PSYC 4991 A (3 CR)

ADVANCED TOPICS IN ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

Prereqs: Third-year standing; 6 credits from PSYCat the 3000 level; or permission of the Department This course is an advanced course including topics from Organizational Psychology. It covers the organizational side of Industrial and Organizational (I/O) Psychology, including the impact of the